Homecoming Weekend Kick-Off Event Hosted by the NC State Engineering Foundation

Celebrating 125 years of engineering at NC State

Friday, November 2, 2012

11:30 a.m. – 5:30 p.m.

NC State Centennial Campus

Engineering at NC State turned 125 years old this year, and we want to celebrate with you on Homecoming weekend. You'll tour new facilities on our world-class Centennial Campus, hear from students and faculty on their latest accomplishments, and catch up with other engineering alumni at a BBQ dinner. We'll have an engineering camp for kids, so be sure to bring the whole family. Then stick around for the weekend to watch the Wolfpack football team take on Virginia.

The College wants to make this an annual event that brings alumni back to campus each fall. Join us on Nov. 2 and help start something special.
